This is a large book with 100 full page color plates showing the designs and decorations painted on imports from China, first sent to the west in the late 19th century. It is a wonderful resource and inspiration for artists, graphic designers and other people in the field of visual arts and design. This is a reprint of a book originally published in 1867; this edition was published in 1987. A book for those interested in the art of China and historic oriental design.
