

#1229562 in Books 2015-10-15Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 11.00 x .60 x 9.00l, 3.60 #File Name:

0271071117264 pages | File size: 46.Mb

DOWNLOAD

Read more

John Bidwell

*ebooks / Download PDF / *ePub / DOC / audiobook*

[Library ebook] Graphic Passion: Matisse and the Book Arts (Penn State Series in the History of the Book)

Graphic Passion: Matisse and the Book Arts (Penn State Series in the History of the Book)

John Bidwell : Graphic Passion: Matisse and the Book Arts (Penn State Series in the History of the Book)
before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Graphic Passion: Matisse and the Book Arts (Penn State Series in the History of the Book):

3 of 4 people found the following review helpful. What would Matisse have thought of this ugly book?By Slumming AngelWhy publish an homage to Matisse's spectacular work in book production and include only a very few illustrations of that work?. The reproductions of Matisse's lettering, handwriting, drawings, linocuts, engravings for poets and writers he loved are in this volume the size of hors d'oeuvres. It is so frustrating. For example, Matisse's etching for the Calypso chapter of Joyce's Ulysses is reproduced in this volume as a 2"x4" image on a huge page filled with text of art history blather. Come on, Penn State Univ Press. The title of this book is Graphic Passion, and you've reduced it to academic anemia. That about sums up most of the text in this book, which is not for artists or art lovers or book devourers, but for scholars.0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. InformativeBy Mark BattyA detailed, informative and entertaining book

The great painter Henri Matisse was also a great book illustrator. A pioneering member of the Fauves, a supreme colorist, a remarkable draftsman, and a creative genius: this is the Matisse known and admired by everyone with even a passing interest in modern art. But few know Matisse as an artist who designed and illustrated his own books. From 1912 until his death in 1954, he engaged in nearly fifty illustration projects, many of which rank among the greatest artists books of the twentieth century. A master printmaker, equally adept in various media, he ensured that his prints would appear to best advantage in conjunction with the printed page. He directly participated in page layout, typography, lettering, ornament, cover design, and even the choice of text. More than any others of his rank and stature, he knew the principles of visual communication and perceived the potential of letterpress printing. Graphic Passion recounts the publication history of nearly fifty books illustrated by Matisse, including masterworks such as Lettres portugaises, Mallarmes Posies, and his own Jazz. It is the first comprehensive, in-depth analysis of his book-production ventures and the first systematic survey of this topic in English. Drawing on unpublished correspondence and business documents, it contains new information about his illustration methods, typographic precepts, literary sensibilities, and staunch opinions about the role of the artist in the publication process.

A full and riveting account of Matisses evolving relationship with the Book. Peter Mendelsund, The New York Times Book This illuminating book considers Matisses illustrated books in admirable detail, giving unprecedented attention to the collaborative nature of Matisses book projects and to the relationship between their aesthetic qualities and the various technical factors that went into their production. Jack Flam, author of Matisse: The Man and His Art, 18691918 Scholarly interest in this type of art production has in the past been relegated to a secondary position, due to, until fairly recently, the tendency of art historians to consider bookmaking a craft rather than a high-art process. Bidwells catalogue rectifies that lack as it provides detailed and precise descriptions coupled to informed, informative essays on the history and background of each book and, by extension, the activities of creative book production in Paris during the first half of the 20th century. Choice Graphic Passion more than compensates for those of us unable to attend the exhibition that accompanied it at the Morgan Library and Museum. John Randle, Matrix About the Author John Bidwell is Astor Curator and Department Head of Printed Books and Bindings at The Morgan Library Museum.