The new pictures are better, and the organization is great. Placing all accessories within their own villages is much easier. Moving all the Special Designs to one section is also very helpful. The pagination makes it very easy to use the book.I know some people want the secondary market information, but I am happy to have it mostly as a reference source with pictures. Putting everything in chronological order also lets me compare things that happened in each collection at a specific point in time. It's really great to have a single source for all my collecting needs at a reasonable price. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Each year more and more items added By Heather Watkins Each year more and more new items are added as well as discontinued. What a great way to keep up with your collection. It's also an exciting way to see what new items you can't wait to purchase.

More than a secondary market guide, it's the definitive reference guide. Village collecting is an enjoyable and entertaining hobby, but keeping up-to-date can be difficult. That's why the Greenbook Guide to Department 56 Villages is such a valuable addition to your village collection. With it, you can: see pictures of every piece, discover variations you may not have known existed, keep track of what you own, record what you paid, watch each village progress in chronological order, learn about designs that were inspired by actual buildings, note which pieces are extremely fragile, read interesting facts about many designs, cite a source for values when insuring your collection. And you'll find many more uses for it too! Greenbook includes ALL Buildings and Accessories for ALL Villages: The Original Snow Village Collection, Dickens Village, New England Village, Alpine Village, Christmas In The City, North Pole, Little Town Of Bethlehem, Disney Parks Village, Seasons Bay, Profiles, And More.

About the Author Peter George is the publisher of the foremost publications about Department 56--the Village Chronicle magazine and Greenbook Guide. His love for the villages and wish to share information and ideas led to his starting the Chronicle, a bimonthly magazine celebrating its tenth year. After seven years as the Greenbook Historian, Peter became the publisher of the highly respected guide earlier this year. Peter is a frequent speaker at events and gatherings throughout the country and enjoys the opportunity to exchange ideas and stories with other collectors. A collector of many Department 56 lines, his favorite is Christmas in the City.
